

The Stewardship Award for Preservation Commitment

The 2006 Stewardship Award for Preservation Commitment was presented to Browning & Hill, LLC for the firm's steadfast maintenance and care of the Long House, a Local Landmark. Built in 1917-1918 by a locally prominent attorney and politician, the Long House is a fine example of a Neo-classical Revival style residence in what was once a prestigious residential neighborhood in the Greenville Central Business District. In the second half of the twentieth century, many of the historic buildings adjacent to the Long House were demolished and replaced by new commercial structures and parking lots, but thanks to Browning & Hill's unswerving stewardship of their property, a cherished landmark has been preserved for future generations.
